

Elise is a third generation Coloradan and has worked in real estate for seven years. She loves the opportunity to meet new people through her work. When she is not working as a top producing agent, Elise prioritizes giving back to her community through service. Elise is thrilled to be involved with National Jewish Health and the Morgridge Academy.