

Kim is a mom to three boys and has lived in Denver since 2005. She loves to travel, boat, surf, ski and sit down with a good book. Kim and her husband, Dustin, currently renovate homes in the Denver area and share a passion for home decor. They have been a part of the 5280 Air Society for the last six years and were inspired to support the organization after touring the Morgridge Academy and loving the work they were doing for children with chronic illness.
